To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

To attend our monthly meeting, please send us an email at uusc@utah.edu.

To apply for the Tom Loveridge Staff Scholarship, you must be a current member of Staff Council, have been a member of Staff Council for at least two years at or above .75 FTE, have not received a Staff Scholarship in the last 2 years, and have been a member of the University community for at least 5 years.

The deadline is January 30, 2022.

Spring Scholarship! The application is now open. Visit our website to learn how to apply.

Eligible members are those who have not received a Staff Scholarship in the last 2 years. For additional information, visit our website.

We are accepting applications at this time! The application is due by February 4, 2022.

The 2022 Legislative Session is just around the corner, and there is no better time to get involved in the legislative process. If you have any particular legislation you would like to discuss, please let us know.

Keep an eye on our website for updates and events related to the legislative session.

The next legislative session will start on Monday, January 24. If there are issues you care about, consider reaching out to your Senator or Representative (using your personal email) to let them know. Here are some tips for emailing your legislators:

- Identify your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Include your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Verify if your legislator is a non-Republican or non-Democrat, so you can target your message accordingly.
- Focus on one or two issues that are important to you. Be specific and concise.
- Be respectful and professional in your communication, and urge your legislators to listen to the voices of their constituents.

Learn More about the legislative process and how you can get involved.

Employee Appreciation Day

Throughout the process, the Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

In addition, the University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

The Green Office program allows offices and departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

How Green is Your Office?

The Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

The University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

Employee Wellness at the University of Utah awards funding two times a year to support work wellness and employee morale. Proposals for Employee Wellness Seed Grants (up to $500) and General Staff Scholarships (up to $1,250) are being accepted through the University of Utah Staff Council.

Learn More about the Employee Wellness Seed Grants and General Staff Scholarships.

Wellness Seed Grants

The Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Staff Scholarships

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Find Your Representatives

The 2022 Legislative Session is just around the corner, and there is no better time to get involved in the legislative process. If you have any particular legislation you would like to discuss, please let us know.

Keep an eye on our website for updates and events related to the legislative session.

The next legislative session will start on Monday, January 24. If there are issues you care about, consider reaching out to your Senator or Representative (using your personal email) to let them know. Here are some tips for emailing your legislators:

- Identify your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Include your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Verify if your legislator is a non-Republican or non-Democrat, so you can target your message accordingly.
- Focus on one or two issues that are important to you. Be specific and concise.
- Be respectful and professional in your communication, and urge your legislators to listen to the voices of their constituents.

Learn More about the legislative process and how you can get involved.

Employee Appreciation Day

Throughout the process, the Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

In addition, the University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

The Green Office program allows offices and departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

How Green is Your Office?

The Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

The University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

Employee Wellness at the University of Utah awards funding two times a year to support work wellness and employee morale. Proposals for Employee Wellness Seed Grants (up to $500) and General Staff Scholarships (up to $1,250) are being accepted through the University of Utah Staff Council.

Learn More about the Employee Wellness Seed Grants and General Staff Scholarships.

Wellness Seed Grants

The Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Staff Scholarships

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Find Your Representatives

The 2022 Legislative Session is just around the corner, and there is no better time to get involved in the legislative process. If you have any particular legislation you would like to discuss, please let us know.

Keep an eye on our website for updates and events related to the legislative session.

The next legislative session will start on Monday, January 24. If there are issues you care about, consider reaching out to your Senator or Representative (using your personal email) to let them know. Here are some tips for emailing your legislators:

- Identify your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Include your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Verify if your legislator is a non-Republican or non-Democrat, so you can target your message accordingly.
- Focus on one or two issues that are important to you. Be specific and concise.
- Be respectful and professional in your communication, and urge your legislators to listen to the voices of their constituents.

Learn More about the legislative process and how you can get involved.

Employee Appreciation Day

Throughout the process, the Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

In addition, the University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

The Green Office program allows offices and departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

How Green is Your Office?

The Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

The University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

Employee Wellness at the University of Utah awards funding two times a year to support work wellness and employee morale. Proposals for Employee Wellness Seed Grants (up to $500) and General Staff Scholarships (up to $1,250) are being accepted through the University of Utah Staff Council.

Learn More about the Employee Wellness Seed Grants and General Staff Scholarships.

Wellness Seed Grants

The Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Staff Scholarships

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Find Your Representatives

The 2022 Legislative Session is just around the corner, and there is no better time to get involved in the legislative process. If you have any particular legislation you would like to discuss, please let us know.

Keep an eye on our website for updates and events related to the legislative session.

The next legislative session will start on Monday, January 24. If there are issues you care about, consider reaching out to your Senator or Representative (using your personal email) to let them know. Here are some tips for emailing your legislators:

- Identify your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Include your name and address, so your legislators can see that you live in their district.
- Verify if your legislator is a non-Republican or non-Democrat, so you can target your message accordingly.
- Focus on one or two issues that are important to you. Be specific and concise.
- Be respectful and professional in your communication, and urge your legislators to listen to the voices of their constituents.

Learn More about the legislative process and how you can get involved.

Employee Appreciation Day

Throughout the process, the Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

In addition, the University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

The Green Office program allows offices and departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

How Green is Your Office?

The Sustainability Office is tracking the data and evaluating the impact of the changes made to everyday office practices, such as energy usage, supplies purchased, and trainings offered.

The University of Utah is committed to evaluating and improving the sustainability efforts of all departments to engage employees in the University of Utah’s sustainability mission by evaluating and improving current practices and identifying new opportunities for improvement.

Employee Wellness at the University of Utah awards funding two times a year to support work wellness and employee morale. Proposals for Employee Wellness Seed Grants (up to $500) and General Staff Scholarships (up to $1,250) are being accepted through the University of Utah Staff Council.

Learn More about the Employee Wellness Seed Grants and General Staff Scholarships.

Wellness Seed Grants

The Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Staff Scholarships

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

The University of Utah Staff Council has set up a memorial scholarship in his name. This scholarship was developed to support and encourage continual professional development of University Staff.

Find Your Representatives